This Week's Sentence Sermon

THIS WEEK SENTENCE SERMON

"Repentance is not like the summer fruits, fit to be taken a little and in their own time; it is like bread, the provisions and support of life, the entertainment of every day; but it is the bread of affliction to some, and the bread of carelessness to all; and he that preaches this with the greatest severity, it may be, takes the liberty of an enemy, but he gives the council and the assistance of a friend."

PECULIAR POLITICAL PROGNOSTICATIONS

Last week the Telfare Enterprise, published in McRae in Telfare county, the home of Eugene Talmadge, a story which appeared in the Savannah Evening Press, October 3. It seems no one knows who sent it to the Press but the Enterprise reprinted it with the comment "for whatever it may be worth."

It is rather an interesting story and presents much meat for the boys on the bench in front of the court house, and the man on the street and families around the supper table upon which to chew. With the same comment by the Enterprise—we reproduce it here "for whatever it may be worth. The item follows:

McRAE, Oct. 3.—McRae and Telfare county, the home of former Governor Eugene Talmadge, are both very much interested in the political plans the former governor has for the future. At week ends when he comes home for a stay of a day or so the former executive visited by large numbers of friends who come through prearrangement or otherwise to talk over the situation with him and his close advisors.

The past week saw an especially large number of visitors, their interest being aroused by the announcement out of Atlanta of a possibility that Governor Rivers may run for a third term. The followers of former Governor Talmadge seem to be of the opinion if the governor, as head of the Democracy party in Georgia and with all the machinery of that organization at his command, wishes that the party shall declare him entitled to another term as governor, there is little doubt he will offer for the nomination. It he does it will mean a hard political fight in Georgia.

But the interesting features connected with the reports of Rivers running again is that Talmadge may not run for governor but will offer as a candidate for the Senate from the Forty-fifth district. This district is made up of Telfare, Ben Hill and Irwin counties. The next senator under the rotation system will come from Telfare county, and there is a movement under way to have Talmadge run for the Senate if he is denied the right to run for governor.

But the plan as stated by some of those who have given the matter thought and who have talked with the governor over the situation goes further than merely having Talmadge made a senator. It is suggested that some one politically friendly to him offer for governor on the ticket he supports with a view to having him (or her) elected.

Talmadge would then make an effort to be elected president of the Senate and if he should get this place the idea would be to have his friendly governor resign. This would automatically make Talmadge governor of Georgia.

Of course this is political gossip that cannot be directly traced to any one for newspaper quotation. But it is interesting reading in view of recent utterances in Atlanta and other developments that are expected there.

There have been literally millions upon millions of words written about the New Deal, its origin, its accomplishments and its future.

It remained for Fortune Magazine, in its current issue to tell the history of the New Deal in just 160 words—a history which the magazine calls a "free-wheeling trip through the headlines of the last seven years."

It is a masterpiece in brevity and we reprint it here as an unique contribution to put between your mental book-ends:

THE ODYSSEY OF F. D. R.

Barbs Of The Brail Patch Philosopher . . .

WELL THIS WEEK I got good news for ole Jake. I done picked out his Christmas present. He's nearly nineteen year old by now and ain't the mule he uster be. . . but don't misunderstand—he's still a durn good mule. But work is kinda comin' hard to him. And anything that will help him along so that he will last longer he's gonna get. I was a reading in the Country Gentlemen, (that's a magazine that Seldom got for me and his Ma when he was working his way through college) about a new harness they's invented. They got it figured out that a mule pulls with his body instead of his pushing with his shoulders. Now this new harness don't have neither collar or collar pads. It says that large, smooth, lightweight steel plates are fitted close to the horse or mule's side. These are held down by two bellybands which extend under the girth and support a metal pad. A small breast pad carries the neck yoke and steers the wagon, tongue, I can't make no sense outen the reading how it works but if they get some in Statesboro I shore gonna get ole Jake one.

COURT AGAIN THIS week. Gracious-a-life. It looks like we are a courting ourselves right out of the court house. City Court and Superior Court. Ain't there no way we can put 'em together or somethin' so as to help the county save some money. It just looks like there ain't no use of it. Two sets of judges, two solicitors, a whole slew of jurors balliffs, and all just to put somebody in the jail for stealing a chicken or a hog or a fighting or somethin' which looks like to us could be tried before some judge without getting a whole bunch of twelve men to set and listen to lawyers asking questions that don't seem to help things straighten out any. I just believe that a good judge could hear both sides and decide who is wrong and what should be done with him. And just think of all the money it would save the county. I'm again so much of this spending money on our courts. Any way if there is so much cases to be tried and if there are any fines why ain't they made enough to pay for the court. That looks kinda sensible to me.

Fireside Health Chat

BY DR. O. F. WHITMAN
County Health Commissioner

THE GREAT IMITATOR

Syphilis is all the more insidious because often those suffering from it are not aware that they have it. They may be a constant source of danger to others, and because they do not know that they have been infected, they fail to get the treatment that would check the ravages of the disease or effect a cure. A person may have been infected without his or her knowledge and have no idea that the disease is entrenching itself in the body, slowly bringing serious harm to the heart, blood vessels, nervous system, and other vital tissues and organs. It is not ordinarily possible for the lay person to detect those who are suffering from syphilis. Most people suppose that the condition of the skin is evidence of infection with this disease, but this is not always so. The skin may or may not be affected. Often those suffering from a severe attack of the disease show no skin blemish and are not incapacitated in any manner which may be detected in any way other than by a suitable medical examination which includes a blood test for syphilis.

So frequently is syphilis the cause of illnesses attributed to other diseases that many hospitals of the country practice in the leading examination the country and many of our leading physicians make blood tests a routine practice in the thorough examination of patients. Dr. William Osler called this dangerous disease "The Great Imitator," for in its late stage it may be mistaken for other diseases—as, for example, pneumonia, tuberculosis, cancer, sciatic rheumatism, arthritis, and various other diseases of the skin, heart, lungs, kidneys, and brain. Syphilis is the common cause of locomotor ataxia and of general paresis, or general paralysis of the insane.

ing his time trying to drill some printing knowledge into our dull skulls. And that's the hardest work we know. But he makes us like it. That is part of the business that was not included in the purchase price but is proving to be worth more than we can figure in dollars and cents. Under his guidance we hope to be able to maintain the excellent reputation he has established in printing circles.

QVNU SERVICE

FIRES ON FARMS

Fires on farms last year took a total of approximately 3,500 lives and caused property damage of $95,000,000. These losses, largely preventable, are principally due to the following causes: defective chimneys and heating apparatus; combustible roofs; lighting; spontaneous combustion; matches and smoking; gasoline and kerosene; and misuse of electricity. Adequate inspection of farm houses and other farm buildings should be made at periodic intervals throughout the year, followed by the immediate removal of fire hazards.

ONCE BEFORE we wrote in this column a fantastic fish story which concerned Dedrick Waters and D. C. Proctor. This week our column becomes the clearing ground for another story, which rightfully belongs in a "Liar's Column" but lacking such a column and since all liar's chairs are uneasy, we guess it might as well go into our Uneasy Chair. We preface THEIR story with the statement that nowadays men go fishing for fish and catch DUCKS.

WEEK BEFORE LAST Dedrick Waters and D. C. Proctor went fishing on the Ogeechee river. They set out some lines, hoping to catch a mess of fish. After waiting for a short time, they went back to fish their lines. One of the lines was bobbing and running fast. Dedrick and D. C. knew they had a bigun. When they pulled their line up, expecting to see a whooper, they found instead, a DUCK. During the excitement of this unusual catch Dedrick lost his spectacles. D. C. brought the duck home and put it in his chicken house for the night. When he went out the next morning to see his catch the duck was GONE! That is just the way it was told to us. Believe it or Not! ! !

Last week was National Letter Writing Week. It was sponsored by Uncle Sam's post office for the purpose of stimulating the use of the mails, of course, but a lot of other benefits could accrue if the public entered into the spirit of the week and observed it the year round. Last Week Post Master George Groover sent out a clipping called "The Phantom Letter". It was the letter we did write and the letter we did not write. Stick it up somewhere and keep it. Too many good friendships are permitted to fade away merely because we were negligent about letter writing. Many excellent business contracts are lost because a few minutes each week were not devoted to letter writing. All of which reminds us that we have several to write.

For a man who has sold his business to relax G. Armstrong West has elected to relax in a most unusual manner. He sold his Banner States Printing Company to us Coleman boys and is now spend-

Cuban Football Team Wins Hearts Of All Statesboro

The Georgia Teachers College won the football game last Saturday when they played the University of Havana at the college stadium, but the Cubans won the hearts of the fairer sex and all of the Statesboro people they came in contact with. Gentlemen, all of them were. Each of the dark haired Cubans displayed perfect manners and polite on all occasions. They won the admiration of every one.

The Cubans liked the beautiful college girls, and they told them that they liked them. They liked the high school girls. They even liked our high school football team and band. On Friday night when the High School played, the Cubans were in the stands rooting with all their might for Statesboro to win over the Sylvan team. The Cubans liked our churches. Many of them attended services in the various churches.

The one thing that the Cubans did not get used to while they were in Statesboro was the food. They could not get accustomed to cornbread, sweet potatoes, and turnip greens.

In a letter written to the Bulloch Herald by the football team and the Cuban party they have the following to say about our town and college.

"The players of the football team of the University of Havana came to Statesboro on the invitation of the Georgia Teachers College. Before we leave tomorrow for our next game with Ft. Benning, we want to express our gratitude to the very pleasant people of this town for the courteous attentions they have offered us. The people of Statesboro are very hospitable and they made us feel as if we were at home. We must say that the Georgia Teachers College has a good football team, they played hard and with very much courage. Saturday night after the game they gave us a dance which we enjoyed very much. Now it is our turn to do the same thing in Havana next December when they go down to Havana to play with us."

Dr. Pittman, the college football team, Coach Smith, and the college officials proved last Saturday that they could stage an international football game and program as it should be done, and still win the football game and make the losers like it.

According to Mr. Parker there were between 500 and 600 hogs and 100 head of cattle on the yards and in the pens for the Monday sale. Only fifteen head of cattle were burned and between 200 and 300 hogs. The fire department confined the fire to the immediate block, saving a portion of a lunch room adjoining the stock yards.

Monday night the stock yards presented an unusual sight with pens of burned hogs piled over each other.

Mr. Parker stated that the Statesboro Livestock Commission Company would hold its regular auction sales on Monday and Wednesday at the Bulloch Stock Yards located on the Central of Georgia Railroad on the Dover highway. He added that they would rebuild their stock pens and yards within thirty days.

Mr. O. E. Gay, of the Bulloch Stock Yard announced this week that he will have a number of good bred Tennessee steers which may be seen at his stock and for private sale.

In reporting on his sale Tuesday, Mr. McLemore stated that he had a good run of both cattle and hogs.

No. 1 hogs brought $6.65 to $7.75, with a few selling as high as $8.85; No. 2, $6.30 to $5.50; No. 3, $5.00 to $4.40; No. 4, $3.75 to $3.15; No. 5, $2.50 to $1.75; feeder pigs, $5.00 to $7.00. Sows and pigs were in demand with some bringing as high as $28.50.
